died December, 1643. His will was proved 8 April, 1645 (Prerogative Court of Canterbury; Oxford Wills, 1645). Her will probated as "Dame Lovelace now the wife of Jonathan Browne of London, Doctor of Laws", dated 15 May, 1632, and proved 22 May, 1633, and additional details in regard to her and her second husband have been printed in a previous paper (Va. Mag. xxviii; 176-182). In this will the testatrix mentions her brothers Miles Barne, Sir William Barne, knight, Robert Barne, and George Barne, appointing the latter one of her executors, and referring to the wives of the last three named brothers. Full sketches of Sir William Lovelace, the younger, knight, his wife Anne Barne, and their several children, have already appeared in previous numbers of the Virginia Magazine (ibid. 176-187).
